

Mgr. Jiří Vančura - Research

*Department of Mathematics Education
Charles University, Faculty of Mathematics and Physics
Sokolovská 49/83, 186 75 Praha 8, Czech Republic*

General focus: The use of technologies to enhance math education

Current focus: Use of Khan Academy as a high school math homework platform

Publications and conferences

Vančura, J. (2017). Khan Academy na střední škole. UPVM 2017, 9-11 November. České Budějovice, Česká republika

Vančura, J. (2017). Research on the language barrier of students who use Khan Academy as a mathematics homework platform. CERME 10, February 1-5 Dublin, Ireland. Available at: https://keynote.conference-services.net/resources/444/5118/pdf/CERME10_0195.pdf [Accessed 29 Oct. 2017].

Vančura, J. (2016). Využití Khan Academy pro výuku matematiky na střední škole. Setkání Učitelů Matematiky Všech Typů a Stupňů Škol 10-12 November. Srní, Czech Republic

Vančura, J. (2016). Case study: Using Khan Academy as a math homework platform at high school. 8th YERME Summer School 13-20 August. Poděbrady, Czech Republic

Vančura, J. (2014). Weighted clones. AAA88 88th Workshop on General Algebra, June 19-22. Warsaw, Poland